Note: Prices are determined from Saskatchewan auction marts' reports of sale results from Thursday of the previous week to Wednesday the current week. N.A. means not available due to lack of sufficient data.

Canfax reported that a total of 3,964 head of cattle were sold in Saskatchewan this week, down from 4,633 head sold the previous week, but up from 3,130 head the same week a year ago.

Saskatchewan feeder steer prices were reported in all the weight categories over the week except the 300-400 lb. and 900+lb. weight categories. Feeder steer prices were primarily lower and ranged between $9.34 per cwt lower to $2.84 per cwt higher. The 500-600 lb. feeder steer weight category had the only price gain; while the 400-500 lb. weight category had the largest loss over the week. On average, feeder steer prices declined by almost $4 per cwt over the week.

Saskatchewan feeder heifer prices were reported in all weight categories over the week except the 300-400 lb. weight category. Feeder heifer prices were lower over the week in all weight categories declining between $2.08 and $9.00 per cwt from the previous week. The largest price loss over the week was in the 400-500 lb. weight category. Saskatchewan feeder cattle prices are provided by Canfax (403-275-5110) and cannot be redistributed without permission.

The Saskatchewan 750 lb. feeder steer basis compared to the May 25, 2017, U.S. feeder cattle index at US$143.89 per cwt was calculated at (+$16.04) per cwt ($209.67 - US$143.89/0.7431, a basis widening of $5.99 per cwt from (+$22.03) per cwt compared to the previous week. Saskatchewan feeder cattle prices were over $16 per cwt higher than the U.S. index price.

Feeder cattle daily futures prices were mixed and volatile over the week higher Monday and Thursday but had near limit losses Friday to end the week mostly lower, week-over-week. The nearby May contract increased US$0.540 per cwt to expire Friday at US$143.890 per cwt; while the August 2017 contract declined US$3.500 per cwt to settle Friday at US$146.950 per cwt.

The USDA Cattle on Feed (COF) report indicated that the number of cattle placed on feed in April 2017 was 1.848 million head, up over eleven per cent from 1.664 million head in April 2016, but down 12.7 per cent from 2.117 million head placed in March 2017. The number of fed cattle marketed in April 2017 was 1.703 million head, up 2.7 per cent from 1.658 million head in April 2016, but down 11.0 per cent from 1.914 million head marketed in March 2017.

The April cattle placements were 3.6 per cent above the average trade estimates (107.2 per cent), while the cattle marketed in April were almost one per cent higher than the average trade estimates (101.7 per cent). The cattle on feed for May 1, 2017 were estimated at 10.998 million head, two per cent above the May 2016 inventory numbers of 10.783 million head, and close to one per cent above the April 2017 numbers. The average trade estimates were estimating almost a one per cent increase (100.9) from May 2016 to May 2017, while a two per cent increase was shown with USDA's numbers. Typically with the variation between the pre-report average trade estimates and the USDA's numbers for higher April placement and higher cattle on feed for May, the market will likely view as bearish; and could see some downward pressure on cattle prices.

USDA released the latest U.S. cold storage numbers on May 22, 2017. The U.S. beef stocks in cold storage totaled 458.5 million lb. on April 30, 2017, down 2.0 per cent from 467.8 million lb. on April 30, 2016, and down 1.2 per cent from 464.0 million lb. on March 31, 2017. Beef stocks in cold storage for April 30, 2017 were above the monthly 12-year average, but below the highs.

The Western Cattle Price Insurance Program to buy insurance on fall calves ends Wednesday May 31, 2017. Producers are encouraged to review their risk management strategies and what pricing options they may want to consider before the summer months.
